

G. Mennen Williams, the man who upset a 36-year tradition by winning reelection, was inaugurated governor for a second term this week.

"Soapy" is now sole Democrat office-holder at the state capitol. His function as chairman of the state administrative board will be largely an honor. He will lack the power to make or support a motion.

What can Governor Williams accomplish? That remains to be seen, as the legislature as well as the administrative board is well under the control of Republicans. In several states the governor has announced a 1951 program of retrenchment in state services, as contrasted with Williams' 1950 plea for increased spending. Needs of financing state civilian defense—a tremendous problem by the way—are to get priority of revenues in New York state, for example.

In Michigan the problem is the acute because of the mounting treasury deficit due to diversion of sales tax revenues to local governments. On the basis of the past fiscal year (ending last July 1), the State of Michigan is daily going in the red to the tune of more than $100,000. The year-end deficit was $21,311,232. The state legislature trimmed expenditures for the current fiscal year ending next July 1 10 percent in an effort for economy.

And so it is not difficult to foresee the A-1 problem of the state legislature: How to finance existing state services in the face of new inflated prices.

Wholesale prices soared to new all-time high in the wake of the Korean war. The Bureau of Labor Statistics composite wholesale price index started the year 1950 at approximately 151 and ended the year at about 173—a gain of 15 per cent.

Leading economists foresee a further price rise in 1951 of ground 10 per cent. Then there is the prospect of annual price rises in 1952 and 1953 of 5 per cent, despite all efforts of government controls.

Add these up and you get a perpetual financial headache.

Governor Williams took issue with reporters. In Washington he said the report he would name Walter P. Reuther to the Senate should Vandenberg resign was premature, as the report that Harry Kelly was elected governor. Reuther says he wouldn't have the job.

Williams is better off than most thought, so far as appointments are concerned. He has eight positions open which he can handle without senatorial approval.

State civil service employees have received their first pay increases since May 1, 1949. Some 21,145 workers split a $7,500,000 per year melon—an average boost of $30 monthly for each.

Report Early Deer Starvation In State

Conservation Department field men are investigating reports of early deer starvation in the northern Lower Peninsula.

Department deer specialist, I. H. Bartlett, discounts the starvation angle this early in the season. He says "these deer may be weak fawns which the early severe winter is knocking off. Disease should not be a factor either, since little of it has ever bothered the state's deer herd."

John Byelich, Mio district game manager, notes that seven deer killed by automobiles on district roads all appear to be in excellent condition.

Dead fawns in the Lake St. Helen vicinity have been reported to department. Roscommon headquarters. Another report was received of a fawn which staggered into a Lovells area lumber camp and died.

If carcasses can be found, autopsies will be performed at the new wildlife experiment station on Houghton Lake.

Vikings Successfully Defend Holiday Tourney Title

Defeat Ironmen And Kalkaska For Cup

The Grayling High Vikings matched a towering Mancelona team basket for basket for three quarters of a game and then surged ahead in the final period to earn the right to meet Kalkaska who had defeated Roscommon in the opening game of the Grayling Invitational Christmas Basketball Tournament. Grayling then went on Friday night to defeat Kalkaska 50 to 32 to win the second annual holiday tourney and to keep the tournament trophy.

In the third quarter of the game with Mancelona on Thursday night, Grayling lost the services of Hank Feldhauser and Jim McClinton via the personal foul rule while Mancelona lost Wilcox and Lucas. Both teams drew from their reserves, found that the Vikings had a little better of the reserve strength as they pushed on through to a 37 to 34 victory with McClinton hitting for 8 points and Feldhauser and Pee-wee Laurent adding 7 each. Duane Worden, 6, Jim Burch, 4, Ellery Horning 3 and Dave Hanson 2. Wilcox, tall Mancelona center led the losers with 14 points. The opening game of the tournament Thursday night saw Kalkaska trample Roscommon 52 to 32 with Ryckman and Lantzer leading the way with 11 points each. Roscommon was badly outmanned as three of their regular first team men were away for the holidays and were unable to play.

The first game of the final night of the tournament saw Mancelona tack down third place as they dropped Roscommon 59 to 33 as Wilcox led the Ironmen with 22 points. Murphy with 20 points was high man for the Roscommon Bucks.

The final game of the tournament then matched Kalkaska and Grayling for the championship. Kalkaska scored first but the Vikings came right back to score on their first thrust at the Kalkaska goal on a basket by Jim Burch. Jim McClinton then stole the ball to score and put Grayling into a lead they never relinquished. Grayling led 15 to 9 at the end of the first quarter and by 24 to 16 at halftime. Just before the half, Kalkaska lost their center, Ryckman, six foot, three inches, via the foul route. That ended any Kalkaska threat as Grayling was then able to control the rebounds for the first time this season, and they then blazed on to a 50 to 32 victory which clinched the tourney championship.

Sophomore forward Jim Burch with 19 points was high for the Vikings closely followed by his classmate, Duane Worden, with 16 points. Guard Pee-wee Laurent did not break into the scoring column but his yeoman service on defense did a lot to aid the Grayling cause. Given the job of guarding Pates, Kalkaska's leading scorer and playmaker, Laurent stopped him cold without a single basket. Dave Hanson, Ellery Horning, Allen Lucksted and Delbert Joslyn must be mentioned for good relief work-turned in during the tournament.

The Vikings who had yet to turn in their first cage victory when the tournament opened are now fired up after gaining two victories in a row over teams that had defeated them earlier this season. This Friday they travel to Lake City to meet them in a conference game and then return home to face their arch rival in a non-conference, Gaylord, on Tuesday, January 9.

Tiny Knife Used by Wayne U. Doctor
For Finger-Tip Surgery Inside Heart

Wedge between two layers of rubber glove, the finger-operated knife is ready to enter the incision in the heart.

Surgery within the human heart—an operation so delicate that it challenges the highest medical skill—has been successfully performed by a member of the Wayne University College of Medicine faculty, using a tiny knife attached to his forefinger.

Two patients, suffering from a condition in which a valve between chambers of the heart tightened and obstructed passage of blood, underwent the operation and are reported "much improved."

The operations, among the first of their kind in the country, were performed in Detroit's Receiving Hospital, principal clinical training center for Wayne medical students.

The disorder, which obstructed the flow of blood from one chamber of the heart to the other had caused the patients to be bedridden for many months.

The doctor, in preparation for the operation, made an incision in the chest, "spread" the patient's ribs without injury to the ribs themselves, and exposed the heart by cutting through the tough sack, or pericardium, in which the heart is enclosed.

A slit was made in the heart wall, over one of the two chambers affected by the faulty valve connection. The gloved forefinger alone was then put through the slit into the chamber, and the doctor probed for the affected valve.

When it was located, the knife was slipped into position on the doctor's hand, with the blade extending beyond the end of his forefinger. Back into the heart chamber went the finger, with the knife this time attached. Two incisions were made in the valve to allow the blood flow to resume.

In each operation, the surgeon estimated that his finger and the knife were inside the heart five or 10 minutes. The complete operation took almost two hours.

Since the operation the patients are no longer bedridden. Shortness of breath, which was one of the symptoms of the heart malady, has been greatly reduced.

Far More Beautiful... Gorgeous New Interiors... and an Even Finer High-Compression Engine!

TODAY, we are privileged to present the new Cadillac for 1951—finer and more wonderful from every conceivable standpoint. . . . Numerous refinements in exterior design have made it more lovely to behold—while wholly new interiors, so rich in fabric and tailoring that they defy description, impart a sense of luxury that is simply beyond compare. . . . And, oh, the things that have been done to make it more gentle to handle—and more comfortable to ride in! The changes in this regard are manifold—and the results are a revelation. The car's quietness is now akin to silence; driving is all but a response to your wish; comfort leaves literally nothing to be desired. To ride or drive is to relax—and to rest. . . . The great master engine has also been refined—down to the smallest details. Its voice is closer to a whisper; its power application is faster; and it's even smoother in operation. . . . And there is an even finer Hydra-Matic Drive—with a new reverse for easier shifting, and for "rocking" the car in sand or snow. . . . There is new steadiness on the road—better balance on turns and curves—easier and softer braking. And throughout the chassis are vital improvements which add to endurance and dependability. . . . All in all, here is new lustre for the Cadillac name—and a far higher standard for the automotive world. . . . There are ten distinctive body types and four individual series—the "Sixty-One," the "Sixty-Two," the "Sixty Special," and the incomparable "Seventy-Five". . . . Why not come in and see them today? We'd be most happy to see you—and we are certain you'll find it an interesting and enlightening experience.
